

J.B. ADAMS

Consultant

J.B. Adams is a consultant with Alpine International specializing in creating transformative learning experiences that enhance human relationships, organizational culture, and interpersonal communication. In his role, J.B. enjoys the opportunity to facilitate select course topics Alpine International offers as well as the chance to work with its clients on customizing learning and engagement practice sessions to help leaders and employees at all organizational levels achieve excellence.

J.B.'s professional experience began with The Walt Disney Company creating training and development programs for the world-renowned Disney Institute. With Disney, J.B. revealed his depth of aptitude for creating popular, relevant and well-received programs showcasing the entertainment giant's approach to quality service, leadership excellence, organizational creativity, and effective teams. J.B. was recognized and celebrated for his special ability to develop learning that was interactive and experiential, and for tailoring training to meet specific client needs.

After 11 years with Disney, J.B. made a career out of helping people raise awareness of themselves and their environment, so they can take responsibility for improving effectiveness. Through his consulting work, J.B. works with organizations from a broad industry spectrum to concentrate on curriculum consulting and developing learning strategies to help these companies achieve their performance goals. Special areas of focus include interpersonal communication skills training in the areas of leadership and management, teams, customer service, sales, diversity, and ethics.

Over the course of his career, J.B. has worked with distinguished clients such as Toyota, Office Depot, Walmart, Bank of America, Liberty Mutual, FedEx Office, The Walt Disney Company, PriceWaterhouseCoopers, Gaylord Entertainment, Hanesbrands, Rollins College, Blue Cross and Blue Shield, Ernst & Young, American Management Association, and Wilson Learning.

Of all his professional achievements, J.B.'s joy is working with business students at the Crummer Graduate School of Business, the top-rated MBA program in Florida, one of the highest-rated MBA programs in the southeastern United States, and from which he graduated. He is part of a high-performance team helping create tomorrow's business leaders.

- M.B.A. with concentration in Entrepreneurship, Rollins College, USA
- M.A. in Education, University of Illinois, USA
- B.S. in Agriculture, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

