

MICHIKO MAENO

Consultant

Michiko Maeno is a consultant with Alpine International specializing in cultural awareness and language education. In her role, Michiko uses her extensive experience and background as a bilingual teaching professional in both classroom and individual instruction scenarios with corporate and private accounts. She is a resourceful and patient teacher with a proven track record and a cross-cultural understanding in business, as well as casual settings.

Throughout Michiko's varied history as an instructor and translator, she has worked with students of all ages. She has experience in an interesting assortment of subjects, including architecture, interior design, music, construction sites, resort and entertainment facilities, and traditional Japanese art, culture and cooking. Michiko worked with clients on language and cultural behavior for appropriate settings, including business, recreation and customer service, and has provided translation services for print, audio, video and spoken word projects.

Early in her career, Michiko received certificates and licenses to teach music, work in architecture and interior design, and teach Japanese as a foreign language. She received her Bachelor of Arts in Education from Miyazaki University, and licenses and certificates from Kashiwa Industrial Academy and Bryn Mawr College, Pennsylvania.
